Director's Message: Moving Forward

In a year of so many challenges, I want to acknowledge our many achievements that are setting the stage for our program’s continued and future success.

First, our alums. We offer congratulations to our inaugural class (2016) of linkage candidates who graduated from medical school and are now practicing medicine in their desired specialties. And we are pleased to announce that our active alums have officially launched our Alumni Network with officers, regional and specialty (dental and PA) representatives and committees (underrepresented in medicine and social media). Specifically, we would like to recognize our officers who are mentioned and pictured in the article at the right.

We also want to acknowledge our students and faculty for embracing the virtual classroom environment. Our dedicated faculty integrated immersive and interactive sessions into their classrooms. And our students showed resilience in remaining motivated, engaged and adaptable.

The program continues to grow. We now have a linkage agreement for eligible pre-PAs with SUNY Downstate School of Medicine and will launch two new tracks: Pre-Physical Therapy and Pre-Diagnostic Medical Imaging, both of which also have linkages with SUNY Downstate Health Sciences College.

Kudos to the members of the post baccalaureate team (Deneen Ciancaglini, Catherine Fair, Caleb Marsh, Robert Rarig, and Deb Stull), who did not miss a beat and worked assiduously recruiting (virtually) our largest class to date.

And finally, we would like to welcome members of the entering class of 2021 as you move forward on your professional journey.

Announcing the Alumni Network

The post bacc program, now in its sixth year, has launched the Alumni Network, which is focused on engaging alumni with the program leadership, current students and each other. The Board, President Lindsay Serwatka (BCHS ’16; LKSOM ’22), Vice-President Bryson Hoover-Hankerson, ACHS ’17; LKSOM ’23), and Alumni Steward Director Daniel Forrest (ACHS ’16; PCOM ’21), along with a team of coordinators (regional, specialty, underrepresented in medicine, and social media) are planning events and workshops for the upcoming year and have launched an alum-to-alum mentoring program.
Moving forward, online

Although the program was almost entirely online this year, faculty, leadership, students, and alums were able to connect through a variety of online events, panels, and workshops. Dean Hershman held monthly Dean’s Corners, allowing students to hear healthcare providers talk about different aspects of their journey.

Students were able to see a different, more personal side of their faculty members during Profs Unplugged (left). And alums were able to participate in panels (above), information sessions, and workshops.

Alumni news...Congratulations to all!

Devaki Dravid (ACHS ‘16; PCOM ‘21) graduated from PCOM this past May and is working as a resident physician in internal medicine at Bayhealth Medical Center in Delaware.

Anthony Vu (ACHS ‘17) is a third-year pharmacy student at Jefferson College of Pharmacy, working at Paoli Hospital. He is also interning at Pharmacy Podcast Network.

Victoria Cantoral (ACHS ‘18) has matriculated at ATSU-KCOM in Kirksville, Missouri as part of the class of 2025. Eric Gramszo (ACHS ‘18; LKSOM ‘23) and his wife, Collette, welcomed daughter, Betty Rose Gramszo (6 lbs 6 oz; 19 inches), on March 1, 2021. Paige Snow (BCHS ‘18) reports that she completed her first year as part of the University of Queensland Ochsner Clinical School class of 2024 online. She hopes though that she will be able to complete her second year in Brisbane, Australia before returning to the US (New Orleans, LA) to complete her clinical rotations. Kassie Trinkley (ACHS ‘18) shared that she is attending LECOM at their Seton Hill location this fall.

Rachel Johnston (ACHS ‘19) is currently a D1 at AT Still University Missouri School of Dentistry. She'll be in Kirkville for 2 years and then she'll move to St. Louis for clinicals. After working full time as a patient care associate, Nicoll Morillo (ACHS ‘19) moved to Newark, NJ to start medical school at Rutgers New Jersey Medical School. Ada Ng (ACHS ‘19) has personal and professional news: she moved to Henderson, Nevada, to attend Touro University – Nevada this year, and she got engaged to her partner of 11 years! Sara Sar (ACHS ‘19) is in her second year at PCOM and "loving it!" She is excited to have her cousin, Deena Alsaadi (ACHS ‘20), join her at PCOM this fall. Tim Scheinert (BCHS ‘19) "landed" on Hackensack Meridian School of Medicine. Dara Tokunboh (ACHS ‘19) reports that she received a service and research scholarship to attend Albert Einstein College of Medicine this fall.

Dasam Jeong (ACHS ‘20) started LKSOM this fall. Stephan Vulcano (BCHS ‘20) reports that he has (finally) moved from Connecticut! He has started a new job as a laboratory scientist at Atrin Pharmaceuticals in Doylestown, PA at the Pennsylvania Biotechnology Center, investigating different chemotherapeutic compounds to stop cancer growth.
Our alums continue to be accepted to schools and programs across the country. Congratulations to all!

Program News

Faculty win teaching awards

Congratulations to John Noel for being named a 2020 recipient of the Temple University College of Science and Technology Dean’s Distinguished Teaching Award and to Kathleen Giangiacomo for being awarded a 2020-2021 Christian R. and Mary F. Lindback Foundation Award for Distinguished Teaching.

Program teamed up with Tour for Diversity in Medicine

This past February our program partnered with Tour for Diversity in Medicine (http://tour4diversity.org/) to host a 4-evening event that featured informational workshops with students, physicians and deans on topics such as critical test-taking strategies, the importance of mentorship, interview skills and more. Speakers included T4D mentors in medicine, dentistry, pharmacy and optometry, as well as a panel of admissions deans and directors from Philadelphia medical, dental, podiatry and physician assistant schools. In addition, current and former post-bacc students from our program spoke about their experience in our program.

The program continues to grow with new tracks and linkages...

The program now offers tracks for students interested in physical therapy (PT) and diagnostic medical imaging (DMI) as part of a growing partnership with SUNY Downstate, which also includes new articulation agreements for PA, PT, and DMI in addition to the previous linkage agreement for medicine.

...and with new Advisory Board members

We welcomed Shushawna DeOliveria, DHA, Director of Student Admissions, SUNY Downstate Health Sciences University, Eric Gramszlo (Alum Representative; ACHS ’18; LKSOM ’23), and Kameron Matthews, MD, JD, FAAFP, Assistant Under Secretary for Health for Clinical Affairs, US Department of Veterans Affairs, Founder and Co-Director, Tour for Diversity in Medicine to our Advisory Board.
